DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claims 1 and 8, the recites the combination of the wedge tool and the slide fastener; however, it is not clear how the wedge tool and slide fastener is structurally related.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Johnson or Eizenberg.

Johnson and Eizenberg teaches in the figures most of the elements of the claimed invention. However, Johnson and Eizenberg may not teach a slide fastener. In as much as applicant claims the combination of wedge tool and slide fastener, the tool is capable of performing function of hold the slide fastener in a fixed position in relation to fastener teeth. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a slide fastener with the wedge tool of Johnson or Eizenberg for the purpose of allowing easier pulling of the slide fastener.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 14 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
